

Instructions for Data Module with Gain Futures (OEC)

Updated 10/03/2016

1. Download and install the required OEC API from this link, http://www.wintick.com/files/2015_OEC_API_COM_3_5.exe
2. If you have not downloaded and installed the OEC Trader 3.5 and you have an OEC account, you may download it directly from the OEC website –
<http://futures.gaincapital.com/education-center/downloads.cfm>

If you have not signed up for OEC yet, you can sign up for demo -
<http://futuresonline.com/software/futures-trading-demo.cfm>

3. Existing OEC clients will need to go the OEC account portal –
<https://myaccount.gainfutures.com>

Log in to the website, click on Other Links. Then click Manage 3rd Party Software. Click on the + sign to enable AbleTrend.

The screenshot shows the OEC account portal navigation menu on the left and the 'Third Party Software' management interface on the right. The navigation menu includes: My Account, Futures, Forex, OEC One Link, Real-time Simulation, Other Links, Manage 3rd Party Software, Contact Support, and Support Forum. The 'Third Party Software' interface has a dark blue header and a light blue background. It contains a text block: 'Open E Cry is pleased to offer third party software compatibility with OEC Trader. Select from any of the software below to connect to your OEC Trader account.' Below this is a table with columns: Software, Setup, Demo, Live, and Disable. The table lists three software options: AbleTrend, Collective 2, and eSignal. AbleTrend and eSignal have a minus sign in the Disable column, while Collective 2 has a plus sign.

Software	Setup	Demo	Live	Disable
AbleTrend				-
Collective 2				+
eSignal				-

 If you did not get an account directly through OEC and are running OEC through another broker, the link above may not accept your username and password. Please contact your broker for the OEC account portal link connected to your broker.

Instructions for Data with OEC

4. When you first launch the AbleTrend software, the login window will pop up, input the following information.

Choose Your Module: OEC

Username: (your OEC username)

Password: (your OEC password)

For OEC Real or Live accounts,

Server: prod.gainfutures.com Port: 9200

For OEC Demo accounts,

Server: sim.gainfutures.com Port: 9200

The screenshot shows a 'Login' dialog box for AbleSys. It is divided into two main sections: 'AbleSys' and 'Data Feed'.
In the 'AbleSys' section, there are three text input fields: 'Full e-mail Address' (placeholder: '(your email address)'), 'Password, same as Ablesys.com login' (placeholder: '(your Ablesys password)'), and 'Product Serial No' (placeholder: '(your product serial number)'). Below these is a checked checkbox for 'Save Passwords' with a note: '(If this is checked, both passwords will be saved. If this is unchecked, both saved passwords will be cleared.)'. At the bottom of this section are 'Advanced', 'Ok', and 'Cancel' buttons.
The 'Data Feed' section is below a 'Data Feed' header. It contains a 'Choose your module' dropdown menu set to 'OEC', and three text input fields: 'Username' (placeholder: '(your OEC username)'), 'Password' (placeholder: '(your OEC password)'), and 'Server' (placeholder: '(see instructions)'). To the right of the 'Server' field is a 'Port' field set to '9200'.

5. OEC Symbol Format. When you use Ablesys with OEC as your data, it uses the same symbols as OEC. The symbol format is: (symbol)(month code)(year code)

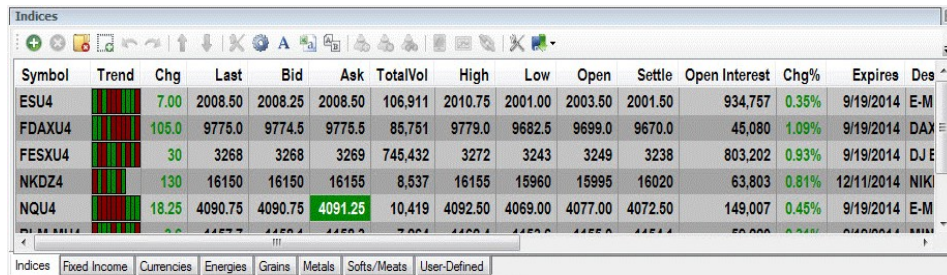

Examples: ESZ6, RLM-MZ6, YMZ6, etc.

You may also find the symbol guide through your OEC trader or at this link,
